

*They say you should love yourself first,
But does that mean you get the permission
To hurt others to satisfy your own thirst?*

*They say now-a-days it's hard to find true friends,
But do they realise that even they have Become a part of the changing trends?*

*They say it is so hard to earn a living,
But do they realise it is because
Their greed is constantly increasing?*

*They say love always results in a heartbreak,
But do they realise they are also the reason
Why someone cries all night
And stays awake?*

*It is so easy to blame others,
But for once let's count our own mistakes
Before blaming one another*

*When we learn and work on our own mistakes,
You will realise the world is just as beautiful
As God had planned for our sakes.*
