

LABYRINTH TO HOPE

*When boundless love embraces her,
When the dark spreads out its wings,
And the veil of faith when no one can see,
That's when her heart speaks...·
"Everything hurts and hurts so deep
The lights within my soul so bruised,
But when the dark clouds are blessed with plentiful rain, the virtuous drops will drown the pain,
And then will shine a ray of light from my soul,
And a mirthful eternity will soon begin...·"*
